

Ideas start here

Congratulations to Waterloo's researchers who have been named Fellows of the Royal Society of Canada for their outstanding research, discovery, and innovation.

François PARÉ
FRENCH STUDIES,
ARTS: international expert on diasporic and minority cultures

Savvas CHAMBERLAIN
ENGINEERING,
FOUNDER, DALSA CORP.: internationally known for transfer of technology to commercialization

Ian GOULDEN
MATH: profoundly affected an area of math that deals with structures central to many other parts of mathematics

Michael YOVANOVICH
MECHANICAL AND MECHATRONICS ENGINEERING: world authority on thermophysics

Janusz PAWLISZYN
CHEMISTRY: invented methods and instruments for on-site analysis and monitoring of living and environmental systems

Richard CLEVE
MATH AND COMPUTER SCIENCES: made key discoveries in the theory of quantum computing

Lee SMOLIN
PHYSICS: leading contributor to unification of general relativity and quantum theory jointly with the Perimeter Institute for Theoretical Physics

UNIVERSITY OF WATERLOO

research.uwaterloo.ca